

8th International Summer School and Symposium on Humour and Laughter

University of Galați, Romania

June 23-28, 2008

<http://humoursummerschool.org/08/>

As in previous years, the Summer School is designed not only to fit the needs of new students and researchers preparing for careers that would be enhanced by a deeper knowledge of humour and laughter (in dimensions ranging from the philosophical through the physiological to the practical), but also for trained scholars in the natural sciences and humanities who are considering embarking on new investigations of humour/laughter-related phenomena.

The Symposium is a session within the week when the Summer School participants give presentations about their own work.

A maximum of 30 places are available at the Summer School, so it is advisable to apply as soon as possible.
